

Thought Notebook Journal

Advertising Information

Thought Notebook is a bi-annual literary and visual art journal that publishes creative nonfiction, essays, short stories, poems, and visual art to an international audience.

Thought Notebook is the inner story of the human mind and the output of thinking about our encounters, and recording of our experiences and thoughts. Each issue is has a theme dedicated to some reality of our lives.

A limited number of pages and spaces are designated for advertisements in the back matter. We are careful about the advertisers we work with and seek companies who can provide well designed ads that add value to our journal.

All ads will run in both the digital magazine and print formats (not ebook format) and will display in full color. Fees are accepted only via PayPal.

If you wish to receive a complimentary digital copy of a past journal issue - contact advertising@thoughtcollection.org
