

Media Kit

Thought Collection Publishing is an indie publisher supporting social change through our narrative nonfiction publications. We produce collections of stories, writings, and art that expand life perspectives. This is because we believe that society needs to change, just as our DNA does. Our mission is to expand perspectives.

We believe...

- that sharing thoughts produces knowledge
- in the need for social change
- in equal access to art, literature, and opportunity
- in finding personal truth
- in stirring emotions, being inspired, and questioning
- in changing publishing to accommodate today's global connectivity
- in regularly turning the brain off to rest and stop thoughts

We do not believe in being vindictive, hurtful, or having competitive agendas.

HUMAN THOUGHT PROJECT

Our Human Thought Project consists of several research projects aimed at studying our thoughts on different topics. Upon collecting and reviewing humanity's thoughts we are able to learn more about who we are and where we are going. We get to share our observations with the world in our publications. Many of our projects are anthologies and series.

THOUGHT NOTEBOOK

Thought Notebook Journal is an award winning literary and visual art journal available in both print and digital that is the output of thinking about our encounters and recording our responses.
